POULTRY CULLING DEMONSTRATION GREAT SUCCESS

(From Farm Bureau News.)
Prof. R. B. Thompson, poultryman at the State College, N. M., was in Curry County the 4th, 5th and 6th of September, culling poultry flocks and giving demonstrations on how to cull the non-producers. These demonstrations were given at Enterprise, Pleasant Hill, Moye, Prairie Valley and Clovis, this work was done nearly a month ago and we have had plenty of time to note the results.

Mrs. J. I. Meador of Enterprise had about 70 hen out of which Professor Thompson culled 41. Mrs. Meador reports that these culls produced only two eggs per day, or in other words Mrs. Meador has been feeding 41 of her hens which were producing practically no returns at all. Mrs. J. D. Hopper of Moye reports that out of 39 hens culled from her flock of 80 she got four eggs in two weeks, while the rest of the flock went on producing just as many eggs as she had been getting before these 39 hens were culled. She has sold her culls and reports that while there is a great reduction in the feed bill there has been no change in the egg production.

Mrs. A. J. Rodas of Clovis says that her culls of about 20 hens produced one egg while the rest of the flock goes on producing just as many eggs as she got before the culling was done. These results are truly gratifying and they show beyond a doubt that if the proper attention is paid to culling flocks in the fall that there is absolutely no need of feeding a large herd of non-producers. If every poultry owner of Curry County would do this culling it would result in a saving of thousands of dollars worth of feed each year while the egg production would be the same if not increased, because of the extra attention one could give a few good producing hens.

Mrs. C. H. DeLozier Culls Own Flock
At Pleasant Hill a demonstration was given at Mrs. DeLozier's home, and Prof. Thompson examined every one of her hens, and after he had gone through the entire flock he said there was not a cull in the bunch, then Mrs. DeLozier told him that she had done her own culling according to the direction given in the nine points of poultry culling.

Prof. Thompson said she had done the work as well as he could do himself. This goes to show that anyone who will study these nine points printed elsewhere in this issue can cull their own flocks, and thus have nothing but good producing stock which will pay for their keep and return a handsome profit to the owner.

We are pleased to state that Mrs. DeLozier's daughter was a winner of first prize in the poultry club two years ago, and won a trip to Albuquerque to the Boys' and Girls' Club encampment, where she learned some valuable lessons in club work and poultry keeping. The little girl's success was no doubt an incentive to her mother, who from that time has made a study of poultry, and today she can really be classed as an expert poultry raiser. Prof. Thompson says she has one of the best barred rock poultry flocks in New Mexico.

The Curry County Farm Bureau is proud of the results obtained along this line, and we are also proud to state that pure bred poultry in Curry County has increased one hundred per cent in the last two years. Let us state again that there is absolutely no necessity of keeping anything but good producing hens which will yield a profit to their owners. Prof. Thompson says there is nothing in the statement that one breed of chickens is any better producers than another. There are good and bad stock in every breed, and the matter of production is simply with the individual, and therefore it is necessary to cull out the poor stock, no matter what breed we may have.

At the County Agent's office is material on all phases of poultry production, which is free for any one who desires it, either call and get what you want or drop a card and it will be mailed to you.

CO-OPERATIVE EFFORTS GETS WHEAT RELEASED

(From Farm Bureau News.)

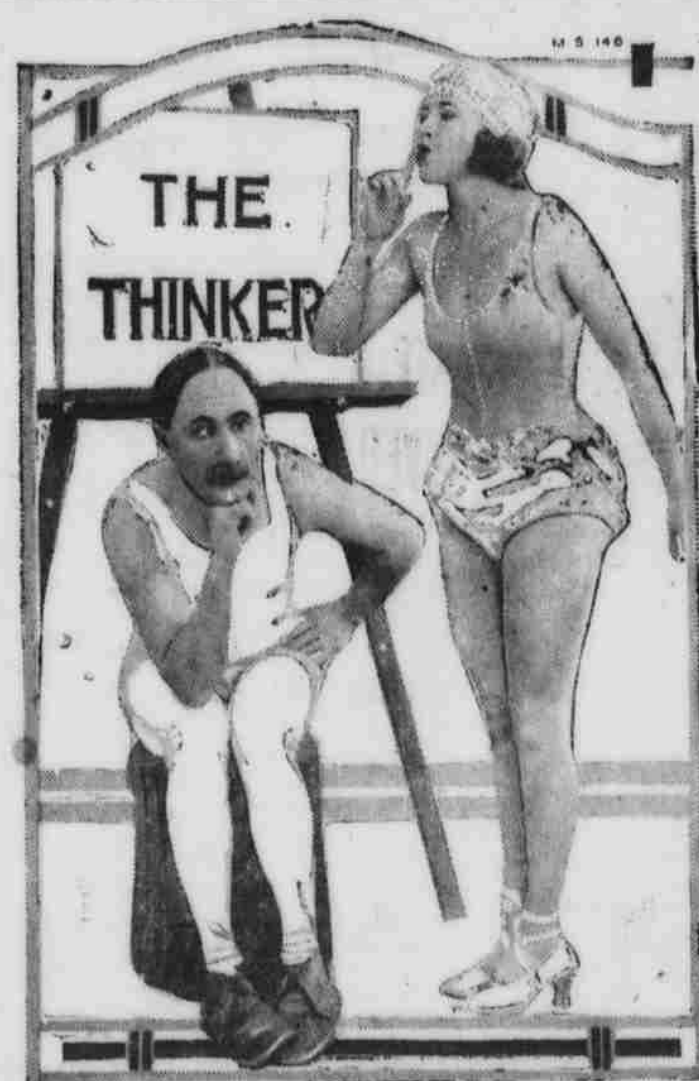

The embargo on wheat has been a great disappointment to the farmers in the north end of the County who were unable to get their grain threshed and marketed early in the season. When word came that no more grain could be shipped out, we were almost panic stricken, because thousands of bushels were all ready to go into the market and other thousands were being threshed every day.

This matter was taken up immediately by the Farm Bureau, the Elevator, and the Banks and a joint telegram containing the signatures of the Clovis Mill and Elevator Company, the Governor of New Mexico, the Farm Bureau, the Banks, and the County Agent was sent to the Superintendent of the Federal Grain Corporation, explaining the conditions which prevailed in Curry County, with practically no storage for grain and that if immediate relief were not obtained that large quantities of grain would be spoiled, resulting in a heavy loss to the farmers of this territory.

This action was certainly conducive of good results because the Grain Corporation advised us that we would be the first on the list to receive consideration and in evidence of this statement we are the first to have grain released. Ten car loads are now being shipped out and we are advised that the embargo for this territory at least will probably be raised by the 5th of October.

At present only a certain amount can be released at a time, so if farmers do not rush their grain too rapidly, the situation will be taken care of all right. We feel highly elated over this matter, because Curry County is having grain released before any other section in the Panhandle or Oklahoma.

It is all right to keep your eyes open but it is charity sometimes to close them to the faults of others.

BEN TURPIN and MARIE PREVOST in "Uncle Tom without the Cabin"
Paramount Exact Screen Comedy

"Uncle Tom Without the Cabin." A Mack Sennett comedy. Sounds like a great possibility for fun doesn't it. You'll see Ben Turpin as Little Eva and as Uncle Tom—and how he does cross his eyes as Eliza crosses the ice. Ford Sterling as the rough neck audience—Charlie Conklin as the most horrible Simon Legree you ever beheld. You will sure enjoy this comedy. Also showing Zane Grey's popular story "The Light of Western Stars" with Dustin Farnum, at the Lyceum, Saturday night, Oct. 4th.

DISCOVERED

Harold, aged nine, came home the other day in a condition such as to cause perturbation to his mother.

"Good gracious!" exclaimed his mother. "How on earth, Harold, did you manage to get your clothes so frightfully torn?"

Harold assumed a very virtuous air. "I tried to save a little boy from getting licked," he explained.

"That was good of you, darling," responded the fond parent. "Who was the little boy?"

"Me."

Cull out and prepare for market all fowls, old or young, which appear weak, slow, or dull; fowls with drooping tails, rough plumage, or crow-shaped heads; all scrubs except those which have laying points; all hens which molt early; and all males except those strong, vigorous, and of a pure type desired for breeding.
